"NOT RACE RIOTS"

THE ATTITUDE of both mass media and government alike to the recent Black riots was laughable to say the least. Every newspaper, every police chief and every Establishment politician queued up to insist that the troubles were "not race riots".

Like the proverbial ostrich, the Establishment hid its collective head in the sand. It frantically searched for any and every possible cause for the Immigrant Uprisings – every cause except the real and most obvious one.

The riots were the first shot in the impending Race War which will rip this country apart!

The riots were a declaration of war by the Immigrant populations in Britain's major cities. A declaration of war against the very fabric of White society!

If anybody is still having difficulty in seeing this inescapable truth through the Establishment's smokescreen, then a glance at the major flashpoints will serve as proof: Brixton; Moss Side; Chapletown; Southall; Handsworth and Highfields all have one thing in common. They are all the most notorious Immigrant areas in the cities where trouble occurred.

Regardless of whether one or two White hangers-on were around, the truth is still inescapable. The riots were RACE riots.

The government, police, newspaper reporters and other members of the Establishment can ignore the ugly truth if they wish. But truth, ugly or not, still prevails.

The slide towards Race War and terrorism continues. The decaying remains of the multi-racial society are being shaken to their very foundations. Soon the whole immoral system will collapse under the weight of its inherent impossibility. It is then that we Racial Nationalists can begin the task of building a new society for future generations of White Britons.

IMMIGRANTS AND IMMIGRATION

COUNCILS PAMPER BLACKS

LOCAL COUNCILS all over the country are wasting thousands of pounds on "community relations projects" to help "underprivileged" Blacks. As we revealed in our last issue, however, there are only 82,000 unemployed Blacks in Britain. That means that there are over 2,500,000 unemployed Whites. But what special treatment do they get? – none at all!

In Hackney, East London, for example, there is not a single club to which young Whites can go without facing the hostility and violence of a Black majority.

Yet Hackney Borough Council saw fit to give the building, pictured right, to a group called West Indian Concern. Formerly the Crown and Manor Boys Club, where generations of White youth found an alternative to the street corner, it has now been renamed "Caribbean House".

West Indian Concern is a Black racist group whose facilities are only open to Immigrants. In spite of this, the group is setting up indoctrination programmes to deal with White racism. "Educational courses" are also being held for people whose work brings them into contact with young West Indians – such as social workers, magistrates and police.

While all this is done for the Blacks, young Whites have to stand on street corners. Their only recreation is at over-priced football grounds where they are ripped-off and pushed around by the police.

The politicians say that rioting Blacks are reacting to frustration and alienation. Yet many young Whites are far worse off. But their answer to the existing System is the National Front.

LANE WANTS TO PUT RACISTS IN SLUMS

David Lane

DAVID LANE, Chairman of the anti-British Commission for Racial Equality, is worried because racial violence in housing estates is growing.

A CRE report on the subject totally ignores the problems of violence, smell and noise faced by White residents in heavily coloured areas. Instead it attacks the patriotic Britons who have taken direct action to stop Blacks invading their estates and who protest at the preferential treatment most councils give to Coloureds looking for accommodation.

The report suggests that one way of dealing with White resistance would be to rehouse the "offenders" in even worse accommodation than they live in at present.

So not content with putting Blacks first, these traitors now want to punish Britons who complain by forcing them into slums!

"IF WE'RE BLACK–SEND US BACK!"

MORE THAN 100 Black youths from the immigrant area of Handsworth marched into Birmingham city centre last month. The purpose of the march was to ask local Labour Party chiefs to back their case for voluntary repatriation to Africa.

Following a demonstration outside the local Labour Party HQ, one of the Black leaders said: "We agree with Enoch Powell. We should be repatriated."

WHITE BRITON "NOT BRITISH"

GERALD BREESE is a 28 year old Southampton oil refinery worker. He is of 100% White British stock. He has only been out of Britain for three months of his life. He has a British wife and two British children. His father, now a Detective Inspector in the British Police, fought for Britain, and his great-grandfather, also British, served in the Army too. But according to the British Government, Mr. Breese isn't British and his father, Det. Insp. Breese, is only a "British subject without residence status", a condition shared, if they care to ask for it, by 950 million people around the World. Under the 1948 British Nationality Act, which gave millions of Afro-Asians without a drop of British blood in their veins full British citizenship and the "right" to come to Britain and live, White Briton Mr. Breese is a "stateless person", with no right to live here.

The reason for Mr. Breese's plight? His great-grandfather served in the British Army in India. So Mr. Breese's grandfather and father were born in British Army camps in India. Mr. Breese himself was born in Trieste, Italy, where his father was on active service with the Army. So because generations of his family served their country in the Army, Gerald Breese is denied his birthright, citizenship of the nation he belongs to by blood and for which his forefathers were ready to give their lives. He is denied the very citizenship which is handed out like confetti to every Asiatic or Negro who asks for it, regardless of their total lack of the slightest connection with our country.

Home Office Minister Timothy Raison has said that Mr. Breese can apply for "naturalisation" like any other foreigner, and that such an application for British citizenship would be given "priority". Quite rightly Mr. Breese has contemptuously refused: "I feel I am British. To accept naturalisation now would be the biggest insult of the lot." And his father, Det. Insp. Breese added: "I have given most of my life to the service of this country. I was being asked to die for this country but when it comes to citizenship I am apparently being told I have no status."

UNEMPLOYMENT: More Tory Lies

THE TORIES are always trying to shift the blame for unemployment onto the jobless themselves. This is done in an attempt to hide the fact that the recession is the fault of the Capitalist System and the policies of the Bankers' puppets in the Conservative government.

One argument the Tories often use is that "there is plenty of work if only people would accept lower wages or change their jobs."

But the government's own figures show that this is not true. The Department of Employment has just carried out a survey by looking at what had happened to 1,750 men who became unemployed four months ago.

Only 38% had managed to find work. Only one third of these had got similar jobs to the ones they had before. Many had been forced to change to entirely different types of work.

At least a third of those who did find work took a pay cut. Among low earners the proportion was even higher. 62% of the total were still unemployed after four months. The majority of these men were willing to work for less pay than they had done before.

These official figures show that the blame for unemployment lies firmly with the government, not with the workers as the Tory press tries to make us believe.

Tory Minister for Unemployment, Jim Prior

THE SHRINKING POUND

TODAY'S INFLATION rate of over 11% is nothing new. We have been living with inflation ever since the last war. But it is getting far worse. According to recently released statistics, prices of everyday goods have risen by an average of 6p in the pound every year since 1945, and this rate is rapidly increasing.

Thus, in the 36 years since the war, inflation per year has averaged 6%. But in the last 20 years the average has been 8.6% per year, in the last ten 13.3% and in the last five years over 15%. As a result of this steady, ever faster nibbling away at your pound note, which successive Governments whether Labour or Tory have been powerless to check, a pound note issued in 1946 is worth just 11p today!

Even over the last ten years it's bad enough. Looked at from month to month it is just a steady, creeping rise of a few pence here and a few pence there, but looked at over ten years it really hits you. For example, compare today's prices with those in 1971:

	1971	1981
★ 1 lb of English butter	22p	77p
★ 1 lb of rump steak	65p	£2.42
★ 1 lb of English Cheddar	21p	£1.10
★ 1 lb of lamb chops	35p	£1.18
★ 4 oz jar of instant coffee	25p	£1.04
★ 1 doz medium eggs	23½p	72p
★ family size cornflakes	9p	47½p
★ a small pork pie	7p	26½p
★ a pint of bitter	9p	60p

THE THINGS THEY SAY: "There are no soft options in housing, particularly at the moment . . ." — Mr. William Benyon, Tory MP for Buckingham.

(To show what he meant, we are proud to publish a picture of Mr. Benyon's house.)

TORIES TO BLAME FOR HOUSING CHAOS

THERE are now something like two million families in Britain without homes of their own. There are another million who live in overcrowded accommodation and local Councils have more than three million families on their waiting lists – and the numbers are rising fast.

And yet there are something in the region of 23,000 houses which have stood empty for 12 months or more. Many other thousands of homes have also stood empty for periods of up to six months.

The blame for this appalling situation must be shouldered by both the Tory Government and also the local councils.

Thatcher's government has imposed a complete ban on building new homes and has restricted the little money that was available for renovating old properties. Additionally, the Government's national expenditure cuts have made things worse.

The local councils, bogged down by inefficient red tape, take something like six months to fill houses after previous tenants have moved out. Many – due to cutbacks – have inadequate workforces trying to cope with the backlog of minor repairs and redecoration.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL

Overseas investment puts British workers on the dole

HALF A MILLION British jobs disappeared last year and some economists say that there will be 4 million permanently out of work by the late 1980s. One of the main reasons for this is the lack of investment in industry. The amount of money put into modernising Britain's factories this year will be the lowest for 17 years.

This is not because there isn't any money. The problem is that a large chunk of the profits of the big stock exchange companies is being sent abroad. "British" Capitalism is the second largest investor abroad in the world, after the US.

In 1978 alone, direct investment overseas amounted to £10,000 million. British investment abroad grew by 579% in the ten years up to 1976.

Things have got even worse since then. In 1979, Mrs. Thatcher removed all controls on sending money out of the country. The result has been appalling. In the same year about £6,250 million went to the US alone. This is still increasing.

In addition, thousands of millions of pounds are being invested in backward countries in Asia, Africa and South America. Even nationalised industries such as the National Coal Board have been allowed to invest abroad. British Steel is active in Mexico and Brazil, although it has cut steel production in this country by a third and laid off whole communities.

The Tories and the bosses of the big multi-national companies who are plundering Britain say that all this is good for us. CBI leader Sir Terence Beckett prattles:

"Everything should be done to encourage overseas investment because it will give us a valuable source of income."

But who is "us"? The Stock Exchange parasites, of course. Precious little will go to the ordinary British workers whose jobs have been destroyed by lack of investment at home.

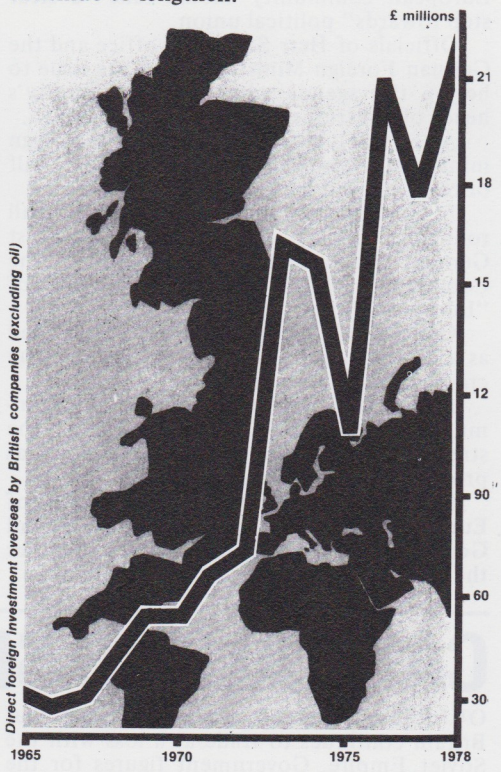
FLOODED WITH IMPORTS

And how do countries like Taiwan and Hong Kong and countries in the Eastern Bloc pay back their debts to "British" Capitalism? They can only get the money by selling us the goods which they make in the new factories built with our capital. So the Stock Exchange and giant corporations can only get their profits if Britain is flooded with cheap foreign imports which put even more Britons on the dole. That is why the Financiers, the CBI and their puppets in the old political parties are opposed to import controls.

However much damage foreign imports do to our industry and workforce, the Capitalists aren't really bothered. After all, they are busy putting their money into the overseas factories which are destroying our jobs.

- Insurance companies and pension funds expect to spend £2,000 million on buying shares in foreign companies this year.
- GKN in 1975 had 82% of its investment in Britain. This will be slashed to 50% by 1983. One senior GKN manager explained: "The only thing holding us back is that I can't sell my factories here."
- ICI plans to put half of its production abroad.
- Dunlops has moved over half its tyre-making investment out of Britain, much of it to Eastern Europe where Soviet tanks keep the workers under control.

City figures show that about £1 billion floods out of Britain into foreign industry EVERY 3 MONTHS. As long as this scandal is allowed to continue, British industry will never recover and the dole queues will continue to lengthen.



Direct foreign investment overseas by British companies (excluding oil)

TORIES WRECK PROSPECTS FOR YOUTH

SCHOOL HEADS have revealed that mass unemployment is forcing bright British kids to leave school early and get dead-end jobs rather than stay on and pass the exams they need for a good career. And Tory cuts are also forcing universities to turn away Britons in favour of foreigners who pay higher fees.

At the National Association of Head Teachers Conference, Derek Best of Vyners Comprehensive, Ickenham, West London, said that "pupils who are likely to get up to nine O-Levels apiece have abandoned all ideas of sitting A-Levels." They want to go after a job while these are still available. The Heads reported that some schools' Sixth Forms are 25% down on usual numbers because of this.

Meanwhile Birmingham's Aston University has announced that cuts have forced them to turn away British students, whose £1,000 a year fees are paid by local education authorities. Instead it is admitting mostly non-White overseas students, whose £3,000 a year fees are paid by their rich oil sheik daddies and corrupt Third World dictatorships. Said Professor Frederick Crawford, Aston's Vice-Chancellor: "It is tragic that to avoid a staggering projected deficit in 1981-82, we must actively recruit high fee paying overseas students whilst turning away qualified British candidates.

"Concerned parents, prospective students and employers throughout the country can only expect fewer opportunities for entry, poorer academic facilities for study and fewer opportunities in helping to solve the complex problems of today and tomorrow. It is high time their voices were heard by the Government," the Professor added.

So the Tories wreck not just our economy and our social services but the prospects of our brightest youngsters and thus our nation's future intellectual, scientific, engineering and managerial potential. Time to go, Thatcher!

BANKRUPTCY IS BOOMING

DUE TO Tory policies the number of bankruptcies broke all records in 1980.

Petitions in the High Court – which deals with almost half of all petitions in England and Wales – totalled 2,834 last year compared with 2,453 in 1979. The previous record was 2,745 in 1975.

Top of the failure list was the building industry with plumbers, decorators, plasterers and other small contractors crashing.

Other trades that had a particularly bad time were the clothing industry, the furniture trade and the electrical industry, all of which suffered hundreds of casualties.

WEST GERMAN GOVERNMENT POSES THREAT TO NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

THE WEST GERMAN Government is pressing ahead with its proposal that the European community should take "a clear step towards" political union.

Officials of Herr Schmidt's office and the German Foreign Ministry expect the issue to be on the agenda when the Community's heads of government meet later this month.

After that it will be a matter for the foreign ministers, whose chairman in the second half of this year will be Lord Carrington.

In his speech which started the ball rolling in January, Herr Genscher, the West German Foreign Minister, suggested the Community should aim at a treaty of "European union".

German officials deny that it is intended as a diversion or "a way of papering over the cracks in the Community."

Apparently, they see reform of the Community's economic structure and the strengthening of political co-operation as proceeding side by side.

In real terms however, any form of European "union" – in the way Schmidt and Genscher want – is bound to erode further the national sovereignty of Great Britain.

Herr Schmidt

Falling Masonry

THE ITALIAN government fell, the Prime Minister resigned and a top police officer blew his own brains out as a result of this May's scandal about membership of the illegal "Propaganda Two" (P.2) Masonic Lodge.

Christian Democrat PM Signor Forlani improved the Italian record of stable government by staying in office for a whole seven months before he was forced to resign by allegations that three of his Cabinet Ministers were members of the secret society.

A total of 963 men: politicians, industrialists implicated in financial swindles, and high-ranking officers in the army and police have so far been exposed.

This corrupt and self-appointed "elite" has allowed alien multi-national companies to take over whole sections of the Italian economy and has ignored the plight of the poor independent farmers in the south of the country. The Italian Establishment has responded to the inevitable growth of opposition to these policies in the time honoured liberal-democratic way. While Marxist terror gangs such as the Red Brigades get away with murder, the radical Nationalists who are often their victims are hounded out of their jobs, imprisoned or exiled.

CAPITALISTS SELL TO THE SOVIETS—AT A LOSS!

OVERSEAS trade statistics show that Britain continues to trade at a loss with the Soviet Empire. Government figures for the period January to November 1980 reveal a net loss of £285,590,000 on trade with the Soviet Union.

British capitalists even contrived to make a loss in their trading with Outer Mongolia! In the period in question they imported £2,035,000 from the Mongols whilst selling them a mere £29,000 worth of British goods to stash away in their tents. Our plutocrats did, however, manage to make a magnificent £2,000 profit on trade with Albania!

The trade deficit with the Soviets for January to November 1980 was admittedly less than that for the corresponding period in 1979. But this was only because, whilst Thatcher was yapping about "trade sanctions" in protest at the Soviet conquest of Afghanistan, her capitalist cronies increased their sales of goods to the Soviets by £40,940,000.

British exports to the Soviets provide them with technologically advanced goods they cannot make themselves, thus building up their Imperial war machine. British imports from the Soviets flood the home market with cheap goods, made by low-cost slave labour, thus undercutting British workers and putting them on the dole. They also provide the Soviets with foreign currency they can use to buy Western food and more high technology, thus further feeding and arming their war machine.

So 'British' Capitalists trade with the Soviets and thus build up the power of a foreign enemy. But when it also makes a loss, year after year, even the minds of the greediest plutocrats must boggle! Unless, of course, for once their motive is not simply making a fast buck . . .

SOUTH AFRICA AND THE SOVIET UNION: MORE CAPITALIST/COMMUNIST LINKS EXPOSED

PARTNERS IN CRIME

Leonid Brezhnev P. W. Botha Harry Oppenheimer

IN THE recent South African General Election, Prime Minister P. W. Botha went to great lengths to stress the "Red threat to South Africa." It was reactionary politics at its worst. Botha was scared of the drift from his corrupt National Party to the revolutionary Herstigte National Party. Not once did Botha attack the grip that Zionist-Capitalists have on his country's wealth. But it seems that even on the "Red Threat" Botha did not come clean.

The Russians and the South Africans are supposed to regard each other as the devil incarnate, but an interesting BBC Panorama programme did much to lift the lid off a cosy Russian/South African (Zionist) tie-up in precious metals. Between them Russia and South Africa supply 99% of the world's diamonds, 95% of its platinum and 80% of its gold.

In Russia precious metals are owned by the state, but in South Africa they are owned by the Zionist billionaire, Harry Oppenheimer (who also controls most of the press). Between them they regulate the price, supply and demand of the world's precious metals, resulting in immense profits for themselves (but not for the white workers of their countries).

SECRET DEALS

This relationship started 25 years ago when Oppenheimer sent his cousin, Sir Philip Oppenheimer to Russia after diamonds had been discovered there. Sir Philip arranged a successful deal with the reds and this has been maintained on and off ever since with the reds even flying to the headquarters of the Oppenheimer owned De Beers company at Kimberley, South Africa, all in the greatest of secrecy.

The latest go-between is Oppenheimer's one-time son-in-law, Gordon Waddell, now tipped to be his heir-apparent. Waddell was spotted at the Bolshoi Theatre in Moscow last November.

Under the secret deals, Russian diamonds are sold to Oppenheimer through the Zionist owned merchant bank, Hambros in London (where Oppenheimer and the Russians have slap-up meals at the Connaught Hotel in Mayfair). Oppenheimer then sells them to the world via De Beers!

In the field of platinum, Waddell comes in very handy. He just happens to be chairman of the world's largest platinum mine. Every May at the Savoy Hotel there is what is called the Platinum Dinner, hosted by a London platinum merchant, a Mr. Barry Satter. Here Russian reds and South African Zionists sup together whilst discussing and plotting the price and supply of platinum. Another favourite place for the two sides to meet in secret to discuss platinum is Oslo.

However, it is over gold that both sides have obvious interests. Recently both the Russians and the 'South Africans' have been holding back the supply of gold in an endeavour to bolster its price.

Most of the gold is sold through Zurich where both sides use the same banks and the same lawyers thereby keeping everything very secret.

BUSINESS COMRADES

Last year Oppenheimer acquired yet another mining company, Consolidated Gold Fields. Six months later a three-man team from ConsGold arrived in Moscow. There they discussed with their business 'comrades' new mining techniques, future gold prices and made sure that their respective business interests did not clash.

So, over the past 25 years during which white South Africans have fought and died fighting black terrorists, trained and armed by the Russians, South African Zionists and Capitalists have been happily trading, with immense personal profit and power for themselves, with the very same Russians. All with the connivance of the ruling, reactionary National Party.

However there is hope for South Africa. The HNP, campaigning on a strong anti-Zionist, anti-Capitalist and pro-white worker ticket, quadrupled its vote during the recent General Election.

When Reds and Zionist-Capitalists work hand in hand, white workers of the world have everything to fear.

JOE PEARCE

Industrial Ownership and Racial Nationalism

"THE OWNERSHIP of British industry must be vested with members of the British Nation." This is one of the fundamental premises upon which any discussion on the ownership of industry in a Racial Nationalist society must be based.

For this reason, the problem of large sections of British industry being owned and controlled by international capitalism will have to be solved.

All British assets which are nominally 'owned' by the multi-national corporations will have to be seized and British industry will have to be freed from the influence and control of international finance. All foreign investment in Britain and all exports of investment capital must be stopped. A state-run banking system that will issue low interest loans into the economy will have to be established, and all private banks and insurance companies will have to be nationalised.

These objectives can only be achieved by the severing of links with all internationalist agencies and financial institutions. Only when this independence from international sectional interests is achieved will further industrial reforms be possible.

However, the eradication of internationalist influences on British industry will not be enough to ensure the evolution of a truly just industrial system. A nationalist state will have to ensure that its sovereignty is not undermined by any powerful sectional interests, national or international. Consequently, all nationally-based but privately owned industrial and commercial monopolies will have to undergo fundamental changes of ownership, control and operation.

In a nationalist society there must be no room for large industrial and commercial concerns owned by a small number of immensely powerful individuals. Neither must there be any room for so-called 'public companies'.

However, in order to be able to extirpate these, it will become necessary to completely dismantle the existing industrial framework.

IMMORAL "INVESTMENT"

Fundamental to this dismantling operation will be the dissolution of the Stock Exchange and the immoral 'investment' system it represents.

The purchasing of stocks and shares through the Stock Exchange gives to public companies an anonymity which leads to commercial instability. It also results in situations where the identity of the people running the company bears little if any relation to the ownership of its stock. This leads to a loss of incentive and responsibility with regard to the management of the company's affairs.

Furthermore, the system of evaluating a company by the current Stock Exchange share price level is subject to many abuses, including financial corruption, speculation and manipulation. In fact, as a result of Stock Exchange movements a perfectly healthy and profitable company can be ruined.

The overall long-term effect of this system has been an increase in the control that high finance wields over industry.

The dissolution of the Stock Exchange, therefore, is fundamental to the building of a socially just and economically successful industrial system.

But if public companies, large privately owned firms and monopolies have no role to play in a nationalist economy, what exactly is going to replace them?

Firstly, it must be stated that the National Front doesn't subscribe to either of the established 'choices' as regards the ownership of industry. The NF neither upholds the view of the 'right' which believes in a laissez-faire economy where privately-owned monopolies are allowed to flourish at the expense of smaller firms, and where financial speculation results in enormous profits for a handful of parasites. Nor does it uphold the view of the Marxist 'left' which believes in the nationalisation of all industry, leading to a State Capitalist system whereby a small number of powerful bureaucrats control and effectively own the means of production.

MONOPOLISTIC

In fact the National Front would state that both systems are inherently similar. They are both monopolistic in nature and they both exclude the populace as a whole from any control over the production, distribution and exchange of the wealth they produce.

Under a nationalist system, however, everybody – the entire working population – would be involved in the ownership and running of industry. Unlike the two 'choices' mentioned above, where the ownership of industry is concentrated in the hands of a tiny minority of privileged individuals, in a nationalist society the ownership of industry will be extended to the people as a whole.

This will be achieved through the revolutionary restructuring of British industry. Production will be split into three varying types of industrial modus operandi: small privately owned enterprises, nationalised concerns and workers' cooperatives.

Ideologically, the racial nationlist approach to the ownership of industry can be summed up in the phrase "small is beautiful". Consequently, wherever possible, large public companies and monopolies – the legacies of capitalism – will be sub-divided into small, family and privately owned enterprises.

However, where sub-division is not possible, the individual concerns will be socialised and handed over to the workforce in the form of workers' cooperatives. This would apply in cases where economics of scale necessitate a large sized production operation.

Finally, nationalisation will take place whenever it is impossible either to subdivide or to socialise. Nationalisation, however, will not normally be desirable, requiring as it does enormous bureaucratic machinery to keep it running.

This system of industrial ownership has two major and important advantages over the current system and other systems being proffered by the Marxist left. Firstly, it will eradicate completely any powerful sectional interests likely to wield subversive political power within the state. Secondly, it extends the profit motive and the right of private ownership to all members of the community.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE: The investment system it represents is immoral

SAFEGUARDS

Any political system, however, must take into account human nature. For this reason safeguards will have to be introduced to ensure that capitalist-minded individuals aren't able to re-start the monopolising process. There will have to be legal limits on the size of industrial concerns in private hands because ultimately wealth means power. The ideal situation, in this regard, would be a state of affairs where people can satisfy all their material wants but where they can never acquire so much wealth that they become a subversive political force. Industrial and commercial mergers must be actively discouraged and even prohibited, except where either a valid reason is given or where necessity dictates.

These problems should not arise to any great degree though because the main driving forces behind monopolisation will have been neutralised. It is the current, corrupt industrial and financial system which is the motive force for monopolisation. Once the power of international capitalism, the private banks and the multi-national corporations has been destroyed, many of the problems afflicting our society will be destroyed with it.

These revolutionary changes in the ownership of industry will change the whole face of industrial Britain. For the first time, British workers will be involved in the ownership and control of the places where they work. For the first time the basic right of private property will be extended to the whole community. For the first time everybody will benefit from the profit motive. And for the first time the British people will be free from the chains of international finance, multi-national corporations and industrial monopolies.

DEVLIN'S MEETING SMASHED UP BY N.F. LOYALISTS

Bernadette Devlin (McAliskey) is pictured here leaving a meeting in Glasgow last year. The meeting was abandoned after it came under attack from the NF and other Loyalist groups.

Hundreds of Loyalists converged on the hall and the Republicans had to barricade themselves in for their own protection. About 30 members of the Socialist Workers' Party were showered with glass as they tried to hold the doors shut against the assault of dozens of NF Loyalists.

The organisers of the meeting, including Devlin, hid in an upstairs room as the NF chanted "Smash The IRA" from outside the hall.

THE ROLE OF THE N.F. IN ULSTER POLITICS

THE RECORD of past British Governments in Northern Ireland has been nothing short of treacherous.

All of the Establishment parties at Westminster are enemies of Ulster's Loyalist population. They would like nothing more than to "wash their hands of the whole problem" and to sell out Northern Ireland to her enemies. The only thing which has stopped this complete sell-out has been the resolve and eternal vigilance of Ulster Loyalists.

However, there is one party on the mainland which has consistently and continually stood up for the Loyalist Cause. That party is the National Front.

The NF is the only true friend which Ulster has on the mainland. The only British voice amidst a sea of political treason.

So what role does the NF have to play in the field of Ulster politics?

Firstly, it must be emphasised that it is not the intention of the National Front to rival established Loyalist groups. The NF considers that many organisations in Ulster are doing a first-rate job in their fight against Republicanism. For this reason the National Front will seek to assist Loyalist organisations and will not seek to oppose them in any way. We will not stand in elections where other Loyalist parties are standing and our members in Ulster will be encouraged to help in the election campaigning of existing parties.

The most important role that the NF will play in Northern Ireland politics though, will be in helping to widen Ulster's sphere of influence.

The Provisional IRA and the Irish National Liberation Army are reaping the benefits of having an international sphere of influence. These terrorist organisations are getting the support of neo-Marxists from all corners of the world. British groups like the Socialist Workers' Party, the Troops Out Movement and the Revolutionary Communist Tendency all openly support and actively assist IRA and INLA murder campaigns. European terrorist groups like the Red Brigades and the Red Army Faction also support the Republican cause, as do many communist governments in the eastern bloc. Further to this, Republican terrorists also enjoy the active support of Irish Americans in the USA.

Ulster, on the other hand, does not enjoy any widespread international assistance. The Loyalists stand alone in a hostile world.

The National Front, however, has offered the hand of friendship and we will campaign for Ulster's cause in all corners of the British Isles. Furthermore, the ideology of Racial Nationalism is worldwide and it represents a potential sphere of influence which could greatly help in Ulster's struggle.

Once Racial Nationalists throughout the world see the Loyalists as allies in the struggle against International Finance and World Communism, they will begin to actively support the Loyalist Cause.

The National Front is the largest Racial Nationalist Party in Britain. We are staunch supporters of the Loyalist Cause and we will continue to fight against the forces of Republicanism.

ULSTER'S FIGHT IS BRITAIN'S FIGHT!

BRITISH NATIONALISM: THE N.F.'s IDEOLOGY

MANY OF the Loyalist parties and groups in Ulster are doing a good job. Their combination of political, industrial and military 'muscle' are all that stands between Ulster and the disaster of a Republican takeover. Time and time again, Westminster has tried to arrange a sell-out. Each time the Loyalists have stood together and won the day.

But the solidarity which has saved Ulster has been born of desperation, simply as a reaction to the dangers of Republicanism. When that danger appears to recede, internal divisions of politics and class have revived, weakening the Loyalist community and paving the way for more Westminster treason. To avoid this, the Loyalist cause needs to be based on something more than hatred of the IRA; Loyalists need to be united by a comprehensive ideology which covers social and economic issues as well.

The National Front has such an ideology. The NF is a British Nationalist party. We want to see Britain run by and for the British. By 'British' we mean ALL our people, not just a handful of Capitalists or state bureaucrats, not just the so-called 'upper classes' and not just the wealthy south east of England. All our people, whether young or old, rich or poor, from England, Scotland, Wales or Ulster, have an inalienable right to a decent life in the nation built by the blood and sweat of our forefathers.

For this reason, the National Front believes:

- It is intolerable that multi-national companies with no loyalty to this country are allowed to control large sections of British industry. Foreign owned assets must be taken over and run as workers' co-operatives where possible. Private property must be spread to as many people as possible, not just a handful of plutocrats.

- The root cause of most economic and social problems is the corrupt banking system. The banks 'lend' far more money than they actually possess. Yet although most of the credit they 'lend' is only an entry on a ledger, they have to be repaid with real money, plus interest. Thus private banks are creating the nation's money supply and robbing the British people.

We demand the restoration to Crown authority of the right to issue new credit. The government should spend new money into circulation, interest free, as it is needed by the economy. The power of Usury must be broken. Finance must serve the people, not the other way round.

- Cheap foreign imports and cheap Immigrant labour are putting millions of British workers on the dole. The NF will ban the import of goods we could make for ourselves. Coloured Immigrants and their descendants must be repatriated. British jobs for British workers!

- The Common Market has been a disaster for Britain, particularly isolated Ulster. We must withdraw from the EEC and seek closer links with our racial cousins and natural economic partners in the White Commonwealth.

- Membership of international organisations gives control over our affairs to the barons of International Finance and the mass-murderers of World Communism. This is why we would withdraw from bodies such as the UN and NATO. Britain should adopt a position of armed neutrality. We must be prepared to defend ourselves, but must avoid getting involved in other people's quarrels and other people's wars. Neither Moscow nor Wall Street but national independence!

These ideas and policies are as relevant to Ulster as to the mainland. What is the point of fighting against Republicanism if you meekly allow your country to be dominated and stolen by alien Big Business or by International Marxism?

The National Front stands against all these evils. Join with us in our fight for a free and prosperous Ulster in a proud and independent Britain!

N.F. DELEGATION VISITS ULSTER

AN OFFICIAL delegation of National Front members visited Belfast over the last weekend of May. Thirty-nine English members came over on the trip in order to show solidarity with the Loyalist population of Ulster. This feature shows photographs which were taken during the visit.

Right. Local youths from Rathcoole show their support for the National Front visitors.

Below. NF members from Belfast, East London and Brighton sell papers up the Shankill Road. More than eight hundred papers have been sold in Loyalist areas of Belfast over the last month or so.

Below. NF members from Birmingham and Belfast fly the flag in a run-down area. The English members were surprised to see the number of bricked-up houses in the city.

Red propaganda shot down

IN NOVEMBER 1979, at Greensboro, North Carolina, there occurred a clash between White racists and black/red members of the Communist Workers' Party. The clash left five CWP'ers dead, five more wounded and six Whites facing murder charges.

One year later, to predictable cries of rage from blacks, reds and their friends in Congress and the mass media, all six were acquitted. Even our own World in Action got into the act. In a recent programme WIA showed video tape of the clash, which had been recorded on American TV, and stated that it was impossible for the Whites to have been let off.

What the likes of WIA didn't mention and chose to ignore and which came out in the trial, were the following FACTS:

1) It was proved by unbiased witnesses, acoustics experts and other film taken at the time (but for some reason NOT shown on people's TV screens), that the reds drew their guns first and opened fire first.

2) Ballistic experts showed that a total of 39 shots were fired, of which 16-18 were fired by the reds!

The Whites' defence was therefore one of self-defence and on this the jury agreed.

The only 'crime' that the Whites committed was that they were better shots!

"Whites will be outnumbered"

WHITE Americans will become a minority in their own country within the next century, according to a top White House aide. Leon Bouvier, expert consultant to the White House Commission on Immigration and Refugee Policy, stated that on a "conservative" estimate 60% of the US population will be non-Whites by 2080. One in five of US inhabitants are racial aliens already.

The White birthrate is disastrously low in America – fewer Whites are born than die annually. Non-Whites are breeding like rabbits. But the US also now has a massive Coloured Immigration problem. 880,000 Coloureds will enter the US legally every year throughout the 1980s. On top of this there is a flood, estimated at around half a million a year, of illegal immigrants, mostly "wetback" racial mongrels from Mexico. The situation is completely out of control: the US Government's Immigration and Naturalization Service recently admitted that it no longer knew how many aliens were in the US, legally or otherwise, or where they came from. In fact, most of them are Mexicans, Vietnamese, Chinese and Indians. There is also increasing West Indian immigration: not just Jamaicans but also illiterate voodoo-worshipping savages from Haiti, a species with which fortunately we in Britain have (so far!) not been afflicted.

Patriotic Americans have long warned of the danger of their country being swamped in a Brown and Black flood, and have long been derided as "alarmists" and "extremist cranks" for doing so. But now the situation is so grave even the US Establishment has had to admit it officially. Unless something is done, the grandchildren of today's White Americans will be outnumbered in their own land. And if it can happen there, it most certainly can happen here.

Reagan's Phoney War

THE LATEST quarterly figures on steel imports into the United States show once again the "phoney war" between, on the one hand, Reagan and 'American' Capitalists and on the other, Communist Imperialism.

The figures reveal that in Reagan's first three months of office from this January, imports of steel from Poland have risen by 192% and from Rumania by a staggering 1,399% compared with the first three months of last year. Imports from South Africa have fallen by 52% over the same period (Reagan is quite happy to trade with the reds but not so with the whites). And this at a time when American steelworkers are calling for import controls as steelworks close down all over the United States.

Ah well, what's good for the reds is sure as hell good for 'American' Capitalists.

A LOOK AT THE LATEST READING

MONEY MANIPULATION AND SOCIAL ORDER – Rev. D. Fahey

"HUMANITY crucified on a cross of gold." This sums up Fahey's criticism of Capitalism and the Bankers' Swindle. This book is one of the best exposés of the present system ever written. Some readers may be tempted to skip over the religious theory in the first few pages, but even this section is superbly thought out.

As far back as 1944, well before the development of bodies such as the United Nations, the International Monetary Fund or the Common Market, Fahey warned against the growth of the Money Power. "The next stage will be a move to bring national sovereignty under the domination of some international organisation subject to Finance. That will make permanent and world-wide the present day anti-Christian and anti-natural perversion of order involved in the subordination of human persons to the production of material goods and in the subordination of material goods to Finance."

The book is well researched, including quotes from both opponents and supporters of today's system of deficit financing. Fahey approves of Viscount Lymington's lament that "there is no democracy, but only three main classes in the western world today: the wage-slave, the interest-slave and the plutocrat." He goes on to show that this is true; even William Paterson, founder of the Bank of England, admitted that "the Bank hath benefit on all moneys which it creates out of nothing."

Fahey concludes his attack on the Banks' "power without responsibility and profit without production" with suggestions for monetary reform. The basic essential is that "the creation or issuing of exchange-medium must be taken out of private hands." The nation's credit must be created interest free by the State.

This book shows how the present Establishment is built on an enormous lie. Lasting prosperity and social justice will only be achieved through the destruction of the entire System.

THE BLACK RIOTS: AN OPEN LETTER TO THE ESTABLISHMENT

This letter has been sent to over one hundred leading members of the Establishment, including William Whitelaw, MPs, police chiefs and newspaper editors.

Dear Sir,

RIOTING, LOOTING, ARSON, RAPE, MURDER. In the past few weeks the vultures of multi-racialism have come home to roost.

You can't say you weren't warned. The message from the National Front for over ten years has been that the multi-racial experiment would end in disaster. The confidential reports from Chief Constables in the inner-cities, which YOU have been seeing for years, have carried the same warnings. You have known for a long time that Britain's cities have become time-bombs – yet you have done nothing.

Now the bombs have started to explode. But still you have seen nothing yet. Dozens of areas are going to be burnt to the ground in explosions that will make Toxteth look like a Tory cheese and wine party. Thousands of shops and businesses will be looted and destroyed until the riots become a major factor in Britain's economic collapse. Police officers and innocent civilians alike will be murdered.

The reason is simple. Multi-racial societies are so contrary to man's very nature that they can never work.

You KNOW that the trouble is RACIAL. All your whining denials cannot hide the inescapable fact that every single riot has started in the most notorious Immigrant area of the city in question. Brixton, Southall, Liverpool 8, Highfields, Handsworth, Chapletown – this is a Black Rebellion.

RACE MIXERS

In every case, Blacks or Asians were the instigators of the riots. If a SMALL HANDFUL of White race-mixers then joined in, this does not alter the fact that the riots were started by Blacks and that the overwhelming majority of those taking part were of Immigrant stock. Even in Toxteth, apparently a partial exception to this rule, the Whites involved were either Republican Irish or of mixed race.

The suggestion that the riots are due to unemployment is laughable. The Jarrow marchers did not burn their home town to the ground. If unemployment was to blame today, the first places to explode would have been Corby, Consett, Clydeside and the Rhondda Valley. Entire communities in the old industrial areas have been thrown onto the dole queues without rioting – because they have no Coloured Immigrants.

Neither does the unemployment theory hold water in the case of wealthy Blacks such as Bob Hazell, of QPR football club, arrested with petrol syphoning equipment in a Birmingham riot.

There is nothing you can do. Britain simply does not have the money to pump enough Danegeld into the inner cities to keep the Immigrant mobs quiet. Even if we could afford it, it would be very dangerous indeed to teach the Blacks that a "good riot" brings millions of pounds of urban aid.

It is too late now to alter police tactics. Any attempt at conciliation, any 'low profile' policy will merely be seen as cowardice and surrender. Aggressive policing, on the other hand, will only serve to alienate still further the Immigrant communities, paving the way to urban terrorism.

BLACK GHETTOES

The riots have already given a great boost to the development of American-style Black ghettoes, as shops, businesses and Whites are driven out by the looting and the rising tide of violence. The steadily growing White backlash is in turn isolating the Blacks still further.

Many Immigrants can see what is happening and are desperate to return to their own homelands. We wish them well. Race-mixing is opposed by decent people of ALL colours and we bear no ill will to Blacks who, like us, want to maintain their own culture and identity.

Your refusal to assist their return home, however, condemns most of them to stay in a Britain where they feel alien, where there is no place for them and where they are not wanted. The polarisation between Black and White, already very marked, will continue apace. Your refusal to face up to the facts will widen the gulf still further. YOU will therefore be responsible for the coming RACE WAR!

We know that you will not accept responsibility. Instead, the blame will be put on insignificant Marxist groups who try to jump on the bandwagon of racial violence. You will blame lead in petrol. You will find 101 'reasons' for the bloodshed – every reason except the real one. You will never accept that the multi-racial experiment has failed.

And of all the 'reasons' for the coming Race War, you will portray the National Front as the most important. We, who warned you of what would happen, will be blamed for it. The prophet will be stoned.

Recent weeks have seen an unprecedented rise in anti-NF repression by your courts and your police. Raids on houses; the imprisonment and questioning of women; the arrest of entire families, including babies; vicious beatings and sentences for members arrested for selling newspapers or defending the White community from Black rioters. All these things are now routine hazards for National Front activists.

Stronger Race Laws and a 'reform' of the Public Order Act are also in the pipeline as part of your attempt to smash the NF and destroy the last hope of the British people.

YOU WILL FAIL. All history shows that repression cannot destroy a movement founded on an ideology. Ideas can only be beaten by better ideas, not by brute force.

"I understand it's not a race riot just a load of Blacks on the rampage."

We have the ideology of British Nationalism. A vision of Britain run by and for the British people. A society based on nation, race and social justice. What is your alternative? An impersonal multi-racial shambles, sinking in the quagmire of economic collapse, forced under by the weight of debt created by your corrupt and immoral financial system.

You will soon drop your hypocritical mask of 'moderation'. You have already turned a blind eye while your tame Communist boot-boys have attacked us and while your mass media has lied about us. Soon you will use your 1984 spying techniques and your riot police against us. Finally, you will ban us.

But you will never destroy us. We may be considered 'extreme' at present, but when the British people realise that your Establishment has failed them, has left them in an extreme crisis, they will seek an 'extreme' solution. In one corner of Britain this has already happened. In Ulster, the 'cranks and extremists' of yesterday are the leading political leaders of today. The same will happen on the mainland.

The multi-racial society YOU created carried from the start the seeds of your destruction. You have failed. GET OUT OF OUR WAY!

Yours faithfully,
The Editors,

THE MIGHTY ATOM: FRIEND OR FOE?

By Steve Brady

THE QUESTION of our Nation's energy supply is of vital importance to us as Nationalists. Without an adequate supply of economically obtainable energy Britain cannot maintain the level of industry it must have to survive in the modern world. So, when a new source of energy is found by the genius of our White Race, we should consider how best to use that power.

The subject of nuclear power must be discussed rationally in an atmosphere uncontaminated by hysteria and unscientific panic-mongering.

When we do that, and consider facts, rather than irrational scare-stories, we find that atomic power comes out very well.

Whilst the fossil fuels – coal and oil – are fast running out around the world, nuclear fuel – uranium and the plutonium made from it – are expected to last much longer. After all, one gramme of nuclear fuel, smaller than a dried pea, produces as much electricity – 25 kilowatt hours – as twenty tons of coal or oil. And, contrary to the doomsters' wailings, nuclear power stations are actually cleaner, safer and less polluting than oil or coal fired ones!

Much has been made of 'nuclear waste'. But most such waste is only mildly radioactive, and consists of short-lived radioisotopes which become safe after a few years at most. They can safely be encased in concrete and dropped into the depths of the sea. Even if the concrete cracked, the radiation would be absorbed by a few feet of sea-water, and by the time the containers erode away their contents are quite harmless.

More-radioactive waste is stored in liquid form in pressure vessels for the moment. Certainly, by a feat of careful precision bombing, an enemy in wartime might crack these vessels, contaminating the surrounding area. But he would do far more damage, far more reliably, by dropping one economy-size atom bomb than by smashing all the waste stores in Britain. And eventually that waste will be permanently disposed of.

There are many safe ways of doing this. One way would be to mix it with molten glass, making a glassy block which will virtually never wear away.

There isn't all that much waste involved, anyway. What the 'anti-nuke' scaremongers don't tell you is that all the nuclear waste ever produced since we started making it during the 1940s could be made into a secure glass block less than 100 feet on each side. And by far the greater part of that waste would have come from nuclear weapons production, which all Nationalists can see we need, not from peaceful power stations.

Meanwhile, coal and oil-fired power stations belch forth masses of deadly poisons into the air (the air around atom plants is crystal clear). Each 1000 megawatts of coal-fired power station pumps into the air we breathe every year nine million tons of carbon dioxide gas. According to scientists this carbon dioxide could build up, trapping ever more of the sun's heat on the earth's surface until a 'greenhouse effect' cooks our world in the same way it cooked our sister plant Venus. Coal-fired stations also pour out 157,000 tons of deadly poisonous, lung-disease and cancer-causing sulphur dioxide, leaving 474,000 tons of ash to be dumped over the landscape. This gas has fallen as acid into many Scandinavian rivers and lakes, killing all fish. In addition a million tons of other assorted waste is also pumped into the atmosphere, much of it poisonous, cancer causing and, in some cases, capable of causing mutations and deformities in unborn babies.

No one has ever been killed, or even provably harmed, by atomic waste. Waste from coal and oil burning kills tens of thousands of our old folk through respiratory diseases every year. In 1952 4,000 Londoners were killed when freak conditions allowed coal wastes to build up for weeks in a deadly smog.

But what about radiation? If people lived next door to nuclear power stations (and no one does, they are all miles from anywhere), they would receive on average every year 5 millirems of radiation from it. Horrors! We all receive in the same period 20 millirems from the potassium-40 in our blood, to say nothing of 35 millirems in cosmic rays from Outer Space. We receive 11 millirems from the ground, except in Aberdeen which gets lots more from the radioisotope-rich granite on which it is built. Aberdonians still look recognisably human after 1000 years, but perhaps we should evacuate the place anyway, just to be safe! We even get 1 millirem a year from sitting in front of the television. Any coal and oil fired power station acually releases more radioactivity, in the form of the radon gas and radium dust present in fossil fuels, than a nuclear plant the same size.

But what about long term effects on us and our children? Well, in 1945, 24,000 people in Hiroshima and Nagasaki survived 140,000 millirems. This is 280 times the maximum limit set by nuclear plant planners for those who work inside their plants, let alone the public, in a year. By 1979, 34 years later, less than 200 (0.8%) had died of cancer. Their descendants are recognisably human and today there is hardly a mutant to be seen shambling the streets of those cities. Some mutants were conceived in the wake of the blasts, but nearly all were stillborn or died as babies: They never lived to pollute anyone's gene pool, and remember we are talking about being atom bombed, a long way from atom planted!

Finally, we come to accidents. Anyone who, like the author, has been inside a nuclear reactor, will know that there are safety precautions on the safety precautions. Many reactors are designed to survive an aircraft being crash-dived into the reactor core – or at least not to leak radiation, though their electric output might be curtailed! The worst that can happen, assuming nothing less than deliberate and open sabotage, would be a 'melt-down'. This ruins the pile for good but the steel and concrete pressure vessel the pile is in is designed to hold it in safely, even if this occurred. To blow up an atomic reactor, you need a very, very big bomb – try an atom-bomb! At worst you'd make a few square miles around radioactive. But a few little IRA bombs, maybe just one, at the oil refinery on Canvey Island and 250,000 Londoners would die in seconds.

No one has ever died in a nuclear power accident. Three Mile Island never even looked like hurting anyone, except through the panic generated by media trendies.

Nuclear power workers are kept in strict conditions of safety. But how many coal miners have been buried alive in pit disasters? How many more have coughed their lungs up with silicosis or pneumoconiosis after a lifetime slaving down a dark, dirty, dangerous hole? How many oilmen have drowned with their ocean rigs, or been burned alive in explosions? Nuclear power never killed anyone.

So let's get this into perspective. Atomic power is safer – a lot safer – than oil or coal. It is cleaner and less likely to run out. Britain needs that power now. Anybody still in doubt should think about one last thing. Whilst Communists in the West are in the forefront of the anti-nuclear reactionaries in their war against Science and Progress, their bosses in Moscow are quietly getting on with the biggest nuclear power construction programme in the world.

DEFENCE FUND

Dear Fellow Nationalists,

I am delighted to hear of the birth of the Militant Patriots Legal Defence and Aid Fund. This, like Nationalism Today shows the changed and more radical nature of the National Front.

Please find enclosed £50 donation towards the Fund.

Forward with the National Revolution!

Best wishes,

Bill Wright, Hull.

AUSTRALIA

Dear Sir,

I have obtained your address from a supporter of yours and would like to take out a subscription.

I'm sure you will be pleased to know that the Black rampages through the streets of Bristol and Brixton received good coverage in Australia. Even graffiti such as: "Bristol burnt Black – Keep Australia White" and "Brixton – where the flame of multi-racial brotherhood glowed like a beacon" have appeared in Australia. People here are starting to see the parallel between the situation in Britain and Australia's fast developing racial problems.

Fortunately, pro-White groups are starting to mobilise against the disastrous immigration policy Australia has adopted since the "White Australia" policy was dropped.

Best wishes to all patriotic Britons.

Mark Slyney, New South Wales, Australia.

MISNOMER

Dear Sir,

I object to the misnomer title "Board of Deputies of British Jews" often appearing in Nationalist publications.

How can Jews be British, i.e. of Anglo-Saxon Celtic descent, when they are not even European but rather of an Asiatic-Turkic Khazar mix?

Surely there can be no such thing as a "British" Jew, no more than there can be a Jewish Anglo-Saxon. This hybrid term, "British Jew" is an ethnic impossibility and an insult to both peoples.

Would not a more correct term be "Jewish lodger in Britain"?

This would also be a more correct term to apply to other Asiatics and Negroids, sometimes foolishly mistitled as "British".

Yours sincerely,

Clive Farrer, Peterborough.

H BLOCKS

Dear Sir,

As the continuing hunger strike in the H Blocks of the Maze Prison no longer attracts nationwide publicity surely the Republican movements responsible for such stupidity must realise that for once they have failed miserably in their attempt to blackmail the British Government into granting their sick demands.

The demented leaders of the IRA and INLA must now be aware that the puppets Sands, Hughes, McCreesh etc. need not have died (thankfully they did).

The Zionist media, especially in America, has a lot to answer for in this Province. Evidence is still being gathered by Government sources that these "vultures of drama" are to blame for much of the violence which erupted on our streets after the death of Sands.

There is a horrible amount of truth behind the joke in Northern Ireland about the American TV producer standing on a street corner with a wad of money in hand saying "Gee! there's an army patrol just around the corner, how much do you want to petrol bomb them?"

Just who in heaven's name do those Yanks think they are?

Some of your readers may know the story of Protestant milkman Eric Guiney who with his son was indirectly murdered by foreign pressmen who were manipulating a Republican mob in street violence the morning slim Bobby died.

We personally attended both funerals and on the occasion of the burial of 14 year old Desmond Guiney could not get even close enough to the graveside to pay respects because of the interference of ABC and NBC network cameramen who were falling over each other in order to obtain better coverage. One such cameraman nearly fell into the grave in his mindless attempt to gain footage.

The funeral of suicide victim Sands took place the same day but needless to say gained full coverage on nationwide TV and papers whilst the burial of young Desmond was glanced over by the media.

It is a sad state of affairs when the death and disposal of an enemy of our state can take precedence over the last farewell of a schoolchild caught up in Republican violence.

Americans may think they have close connections with this island but until they learn to behave responsibly it would be better for all if they would remain in their glorified "States" and tried to settle their own affairs which are no better if not worse than ours.

Perhaps Ronald Reagan will come up with an answer for us all, as if the Loyalists of Ulster don't have the answer ready and waiting.

J. Couse & D. Coburn, Rathcoole, N.I.

HOUSING

Dear Sir,

I am writing to congratulate you on what you said about Britain's homeless.

I will soon be twenty and I am unemployed. I live in a sub-standard one bedroom flat. It urgently needs repairs, but the council have not helped me one bit. For example, when I tried to have the heating repaired they refused to help and told me I had to pay for it myself.

I am unemployed and only receive £31 a week. How the hell do they think I am going to pay for repairs on the money I get? A gas fire costs about £80, and a new boiler costs even more.

Also all the electrical sockets are very old. I have to pay for them too.

Every time I have asked the council to help the reply has always been no. The local council is Labour who are supposed to help young people like me. But of course they will not, they are always telling lies.

I hope very much that the NF will help young people who are in the same position as me.

Also in Wolverhampton a new housing estate has just been completed which I worked on. Most of these brand new houses are now full of Blacks.

Maybe if I paint my face Black I will get something done.

Carry on the good work.

"FREE ENTERPRISE"

Sir,

Whilst I found Steve Brady's article Capitalism, Communism And The Real Alternative (NT No. 5) an essentially informative one, I found his suggestion that the National Front is advocating an economic policy of free enterprise most confusing.

The term "free enterprise" is used not only by kosher conservatives, who seek to defend the immoral capitalist system, but also by Big Business Barons like Harry Oppenheimer. In practice, therefore, the term is synonymous with capitalism.

In theory the policy of free enterprise is one which has neither rules nor regulations and thus allows all and sundry to struggle for economic advantage without any respect for the national interest. Over a period of centuries, this multitude of people has been whittled down to the present, relatively few multi-national corporations and resulted in the virtual eclipse of the small businessman. Such an economic policy is not one that the Radical Nationalist can condone, since it leaves Britain at the mercy of a small clique of capitalists.

Surely Mr. Brady meant that the NF is advocating "private enterprise". This system, by contrast, is one that allows all Britons to strive to achieve a prosperity that is commensurate with their efforts, but at the same time is always carried out within the framework of British national interest.

Seen in this light, the term "free" and "private" enterprise signify not differences of detail, but rather of essence.

Regards,

Derek Holland, Huntingdon.

Alexander the Not Great

A PLAN to erect a statue of Alexander the Great near his birthplace in northern Greece has run into opposition from the Communists on the local Council. Communist councillors in the town of Nepolis accused Alexander, who in ten years conquered the whole of the then-known world from the Danube to India and spread Hellenic civlisation and learning throughout the whole of the Middle East, of being an "outdated imperialist". They suggested the money be spent on erecting a statue to a rather less well known figure, Nikos Beloyannis, who after a career of terrorism in the 1940s was shot as a Russian spy in the early 1950s.

It is of course well known in anti-fascist circles that, apart from being a racist, fascist, imperialist etc. Alexander the Great, like Julius Caesar and many other great conquerors of history was a member of the National Front. But membership applications from Attila the Hun and Genghis Khan were turned down as there was some question of their racial acceptability, and the National Directorate also refused an application from the Empire of Alexander for Branch status on the grounds that they had not properly elected an Organiser and Committee in accordance with Section 5, sub-section 1 of the NF Branch Constitution. They also owed 2300 years' Branch levy to Head Office.

STARTS TODAY

Holocaust Exclusive

IN Today's super bore-away Scum, Mr. Israel Rakeoff tells the true story of how he really spent 15 years in Auschwitz. How he survived the real horrors of the Nazi concentration camps which really existed all over Europe. How he has just discovered genuine allied aerial reconnaissance photos of Dachau which show his nose poking out from under a real gas chamber door.

And how, after this remarkable and true escape which really happened, he walked to Leeds, sold his gold teeth and set up a textile factory.

Having made a fortune with his famous 'Gannet' raincoats, Mr. Rakeoff had a slight problem with an anti-semitic tax man. But he now reveals, for a mere £3 million, the true horror of the 17 years which he spent in Belsen. As he says: "It wasn't the money, I just had to tell the world of my terrible and true ordeal in Buchenwald. People should never forget how the Jews suffered, especially when the National Front is standing in the Croydon by-election."

Unidentified Flying Object

"Gums"

"THE teeth are in our possession" was all Wolverhampton police had to say about an attack on a young woman in a subway. The girl suffered a bruised jaw, but her attacker, a West Indian aged about 35, lost his false teeth in the struggle.

And, while on the subject of teeth, pity holocaust survivor Mrs. Sonia Pesochova. Poor Sonia, who settled in Israel only two years ago, was returning to her flat with her retarded son when she was attacked. The four young men who robbed the 65 year old woman must have been watching too many World War II horror stories. Not only did they take her savings and jewellery at knife point, but they also pulled out 27 of her teeth for the gold fillings!

Chopped Sue-y!

A JAPANESE student shot his White girlfriend and ate her because she refused to make love to him, Paris Police were told on June 16th. Unconsumed bits of Miss Renee Hartevelt were found in a fridge and in two suitcases together with 30 tasteful colour photos of the "carve-up". Confessing to his crime, Issei Sagawa told Police he had always wanted to eat a young girl.

Black paper names the nasty Nazis

THE learned academic journal Westindian Digest has exposed the hated war criminal Dr. Doolittle. The Digest reveals that the "Doctor of Death" – believed to be hiding in Paraguay with his neo-Nazi parrot, which actually refers to American Indians as "greasy natives" and uses the word "nigger" – is a dangerous racist fanatic. A recent issue of this hard-hitting anti-fascist magazine revealed that Doolittle's creator, Hugh Lofting, was exposed in America in 1969 as "a White racist and chauvinist guilty of almost every prejudice known to White Western man." Lofting actually gave Black characters in his books "ridiculous names" like King Koko, King Jong and Prince Bumpo (everyone knows that Negroes have distinguished names like Ogbogbo, Ndabaningi Sithole and Canaan Banana). He said they were "ignorant and superstitious" (of course the learned Mandingo philosopher-scientists were about to put a man into space when their civilisation was wrecked by hordes of White racist slavers, bigoted parrots and all!). Doolittle's reported ability to talk to animals opens new avenues for fascist and racist brainwashing of hamsters, tortoises and other oppressed and backward sections of the working class. All anti-fascists are warned to be on their guard. ANAL is expected to announce the formation of "Pushme-Pullyou's Against The Nazis" shortly.

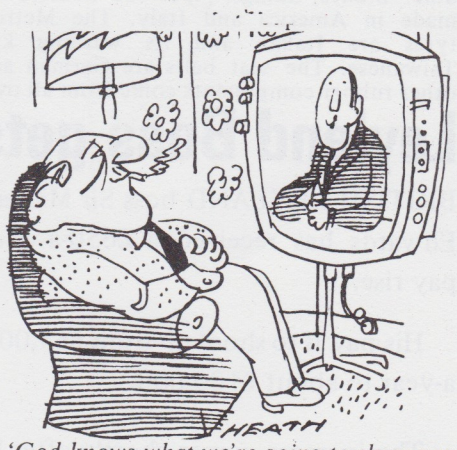
Stiff Competition

VOTERS in Vermont, USA, had an interesting choice in filling a spot in their state legislature recently. The Republican candidate was Lauren Leavitt, a Jew. The Democratic candidate, Sergio Pasetto, had died 10 days before the election, and no one had replaced him. The voters chose the dead man – two to one.



'God knows what we're going to show you today, but you'll watch anything, so what the hell.'

Trade Unionists fight to save Linwoods

A UNION decision to stop imports of French Peugeot Citroen cars will be carried out by Scottish dockers "to the letter," Transport Union leader Mr. Alex Kitson warned recently. Announcing the 'blacking' of foreign imported cars, he said: "We have the muscle. We have the dockers and the transport workers and they can rest assured the decision taken last week by the union executive will be carried out to the letter."

Mr. Kitson, deputy general secretary of the Transport and General Workers Union, said the fight to save the Linwood factory – and the 4500 jobs that go with it – which Peugeot has decided to close, might only be the first of a series of battles to save the British motor industry.

Another prominent Trade Unionist has also entered the battle to save the doomed Linwood plant.

For Mr. Gavin Laird, Scottish executive of the engineering union, said that members of the AUEW would refuse to move any plant and machinery from Linwood, and that no foreign cars would be moved into a stockyard which is planned by Peugeot at Immingham, on Humberside.

On the Linwood front, workers are now demanding that company accounts – which apparently show that the Scottish plant WAS in fact making a profit – should be opened to scrutiny by the Scottish Select Committee.

British car-workers threatened by imports

New "All-British" Metro is 70% foreign

A TOP Union official revealed recently that British Leyland's advertising campaign portraying the new Mini-Metro as an "all-British car" worthy of patriotic support is a big con. Delegates at the General and Municipal Workers' Union conference in Brighton were told by Mr. Maurice Reed, the GMWU's chief car industry negotiator, that 70% of the components making up the Metro are foreign.

Clocks, radios and other instruments are made in Japan, putting 300 Smiths Industries instrument makers in Cricklewood on the dole. Brakes, linings, pipes and nozzles are made in America and Italy. The Metro's tyres are Italian and its washing kits Taiwanese. The seat belts are German and other rubber components come from all over the world, Mr. Reed revealed. And, he said, he could have listed many more foreign parts in this car.

Now BL are planning to cancel even more British made parts, threatening even more British jobs and buy components from Spain. "There are more British made components in a Volvo than there are in a new Metro," the top GMWU man angrily revealed.

A British Leyland spokesman, answering these charges, claimed that lots of big components of the car like the chassis were made in this country, and so the car was at least 50% British. He did admit, referring to foreign made components of the "all-British" Metro that "when you list them they sound a lot."

Reactionaries wreck Industrial Relations

IN ISSUE number 4 of Nationalism Today, we highlighted how the Tory reactionary attitudes of some bosses helped to decrease workers' efficiency, increase their boredom and create industrial situations ripe for Communist manipulation.

A case in hand was that of Mr. Chaim Schreiber, Managing Director of Hotpoint, the giant electrical firm.

In an effort to "boost efficiency", Schreiber reduced workers' holiday, sick and death benefits and scrapped subsidised canteen lunches. He also banned smoking and the traditional British workers' tea-break.

He also ended a £3 payment for shop stewards attending Union meetings – thus discouraging ordinary workers from taking up Union positions, making it easier for Communist trouble-makers to gain control and use legitimate grievances for their own ends.

Now a similar incident has come to our notice.

In an act of gross petty-mindedness, and in true Tory fashion, Lord Bath – of Longleat House fame – sacked one of his workers for having a cup of tea at 10.23am – eight minutes over his official tea-break time.

However, Lord Bath later came unstuck when an Industrial Tribunal backed the sacked employee's claim of unfair dismissal and ruled that Lord Bath had acted too hastily.

Grass cutter, Mr. Michael Trollope, told the Tribunal that the reason why he was still drinking tea at 10.23 was simply because he had started his tea-break late.

After the verdict, Trollope, 38, married with two children, said: "I've won a victory for the workers. No one up to now has been prepared to fight Lord Bath and the feudal system. I took them on and beat them."

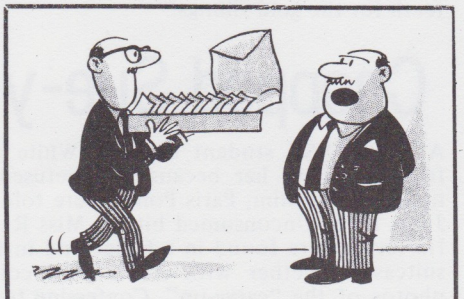
As Nationalism Today has said before, it is both the actions of short-sighted Tory reactionaries and Communist manipulators which are responsible for worsening the scene of British Industrial Relations. Our job must be to eliminate both.

Leyland Boss gets enormous pay rise

BRITISH LEYLAND boss Sir Michael Edwards has received a £650-a-week pay rise.

His pay is to shoot up from £65,000-a-year to about £100,000.

The increase comes shortly after he revealed that BL was losing £10 million a week.



"I do wish you'd try to keep my wages separate from the shop floor's."

Bottom of the League

BRITAIN is now at the bottom of the pay league of all industrial nations, according to a report by the American Citibank.

It shows that in 1979 Britain was last in the table of industrialised countries, paying an average of £2.47 an hour in manufacturing industry, compared with £4.29 in the USA. Apart from the USA, the Netherlands, Sweden, West Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Japan, Italy, Canada and France were all well ahead of Britain.

This Citibank report exposes Mrs. Thatcher's often repeated claim that "British workers are being paid too much" as just another Tory lie.

N.T. FIGHTING FUND

Everyone agrees that Nationalism Today is the easiest to sell, liveliest and most informative nationalist magazine in Britain. Sales are going up all the time and subscriptions keep pouring in. But while this allows us to produce the magazine once every two months, we still cannot afford to turn it into a monthly publication.

Yet the need for a radical, easy to read, monthly magazine has never been greater. Even the Government admits that unemployment will soar to 3 million this autumn. 1981 is already being called "the worst year ever for racial violence."

If the NF is to benefit from this gathering crisis, we must convert new recruits into committed Party members. We must take them beyond the worries and grievances that attract them to our cause. We must turn them into National Revolutionaries.

Nationalism Today is a great weapon in our struggle. But it will be even better if we can launch it as a regular monthly magazine in time for the next football season and the NF's big autumn sales drive.

We need £500 to put NT on a regular monthly basis. We have already received £62.70 from close associates of the magazine. But there's still a long way to go. We want YOU to help us to turn the Black Fist of the Immigrants and the Reds into the White Power Fist of British Racial Nationalism.

"CAN'T AFFORD TO JOIN"

FOR YEARS, youngsters, pensioners and the unemployed have complained that they can't afford to pay their NF subscription in one go.

Now they don't have to! The National Front is now producing a subscription savings card to be used with NF savings stamps.

The stamps cost £1 each, so people who are hard up can buy a stamp when they can afford it until they have enough to pay their subscription.

Individual members can buy the stamps direct from Head Office, but a far better way to do it is to buy them from your local Organiser.

Branches and Groups get a 15% discount on all purchases of 30 or more stamps. So if you buy £30 worth of stamps, they only cost £25.50. That means that you can sign up even more members AND make money for Branch funds.

Buy Nationalism Today in bulk and help spread the Radical Nationalist word.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN COMMUNISM AND BRITISH NATIONALISM

COMMUNISTS say that they are the alternative to capitalism. But when the two are compared it can be seen that communism and capitalism are in fact very similar. Under both systems the vast majority of wealth is concentrated in the hands of very few people. Under capitalism it is concentrated in the hands of a few groups of bankers and industrialists, whilst under communism it is concentrated in the hands of one group of party bosses. Communism is simply the logical conclusion of capitalism.	Capitalism	BRITISH NATIONALISTS know that communism is not an alternative to capitalism. Both communists and capitalists want to see the wealth of the nation in the hands of a few individuals. Nationalists want to see the wealth of the nation in the hands of the members of the nation. We want to give all our people a real stake in our country. For this reason, Nationalists will ensure that everyone has a real chance to enjoy the benefits of the nation's wealth.
COMMUNISTS believe that millions more Blacks should come to Britain. They want to scrap all immigration controls. Lenin said that "the British people will never make their own revolution. The revolution will have to be imported for them." For this reason the communists want more immigrants so that they can become the shock troops of their revolution.	Immigration	BRITISH NATIONALISTS believe that all further immigration to Britain must be stopped. A policy of humane repatriation should be implemented so that coloured immigrants would be returned to their own countries. Blacks were brought to this country to undercut the wages of British workers. Besides this, mass immigration poses a serious threat to British culture and the British race. National identity is based on race and culture, not on geographical areas.
COMMUNISTS believe that all private property should be abolished. They believe that everything should be owned by the state. Under communism individuals are not allowed to own anything personally. Their houses and places of work are confiscated and handed over to a state monopoly. This system of ownership is even worse than the present system. In the Britain of today, nearly all property is in the hands of capitalist bosses. In a communist Britain all property would be in the hands of party bosses.	Property	BRITISH NATIONALISTS believe that the need for private property is an inherent part of man's nature. It is true that the grossly unequal distribution of property leads to immense social injustice, but the answer is not to hand all property over to a handful of state bureaucrats as the communists want to do. The only fair solution is a system of ownership involving small-holdings, small family businesses and workers' co-operatives. This would extend the benefits of private property to the whole population.
